Clingmans Dome

No physical address.

Location: From Cherokee travel north on Newfound Gap Road (U.S. 441) 16 miles and turn left on Clingmans Dome Road for seven miles.

Open: April - November.

Phone: Recorded information: 865-436-1200

E-mail: GRSM_Smokies_Information@nps.gov

Web Site: www.nps.gov/grsm

Cost: Free.

At 6,643 feet, Clingmans Dome is the highest point in Great Smoky Mountains National Park and offers spectacular views of the Smokies. The vantage point from the parking area is good. The parking area contains accessible vault toilets. From there, a steep asphalt-paved trail leads to a visitor contact station/bookstore and sales area and an observation tower. The visitor contact station is 100 yards from the parking area.

Parking: Six marked accessible parking spaces.

Types of Paths: Asphalt and concrete pathways at least four feet wide with slopes. There are five benches along the path up to the observation tower, but they are more than 400 feet apart.

Entrance: A ramp with a grade that exceeds 1:12 leads to the visitor contact station/bookstore. The entrance to the observation tower is level with the pathway, and a ramp winds up to the top of the tower.

Restrooms: Two restrooms have four accessible stalls. Instead of a sink, there is hand sanitizer. There is no mirror.

Accessibility Rating

Physical Disabilities: The observation tower is one-half a mile uphill on a steep slope. The winding ramp to the top of the 45-foot-tall observation tower has a grade exceeding 20 percent, which does not meet ADA standards. The park strongly recommends that visitors with mobility disabilities use a motorized wheelchair or have other assistance to climb the hill and to reach the top of the observation tower.

The observation tower on Clingmans Dome has a ramp to the top.

Aaron Copland

John Henry

AARON COPLAND'S LIFE AND WORK

Aaron Copland was the son of Jewish immigrants from Poland and Lithuania who immigrated to America in search of a better life. Copland learned to play the piano at a relatively young age, and regularly attended orchestra performances in New York City.

Although this experience inspired him to pursue a career in music, he wanted to learn more in Europe before beginning his life as a composer. When he turned 20, Copland moved to Paris to study music under Nadia Boulanger, a very famous composer and piano teacher. There he began to develop his personal style. Copland wanted to create a distinctively American style of music, influenced by the jazz and pop he had grown up with on the streets of New York City.

Born: 1900, Brooklyn, New York
Died: 1990, North Tarrytown,
New York

Before he became a composer,
Copland worked as a pianist at a resort entertaining guests.
